The Detail Company—Sierra Brava

Nestled in the beautiful Sierras Machas, of the Cordoba Province, you can find one of the most prolific dove roosts in all the world. Situated perfectly to take advantage of the daily travel paths from this roost is Sierra Brava Lodge; High Volume Dove shooting at its finest.

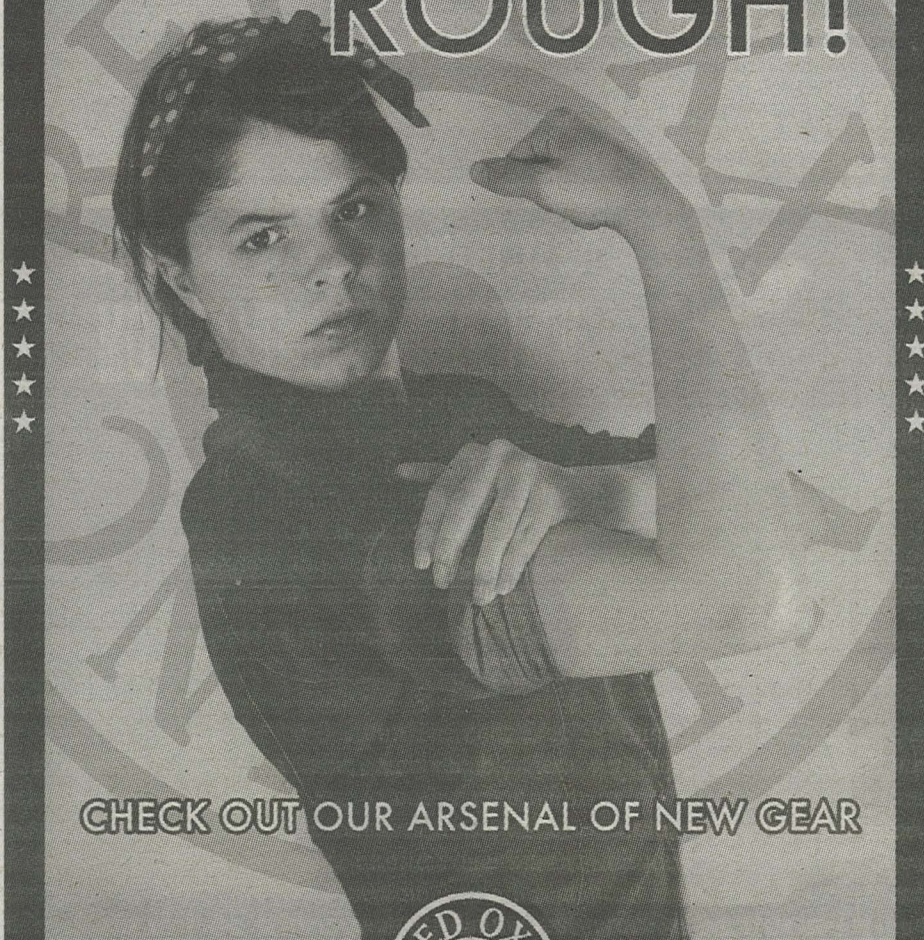

Sierra Brava is located just one hour north of Cordoba City, in the heart of the Argentinean breadbasket. With 50-plus fields leased and thousands of acres available for shooting, few outfitters in Cordoba can come close to the short drives to the field that Sierra Brava is fast becoming famous for. Expect limitless presentations, and an honest opportunity at thousands of dove a day.

The lodge can handle up to 14 people and is equipped with all the modern conveniences that you should expect from a world-class wingshooting lodge. From the moment you step foot on the property, you will begin to realize that Sierra Brava has set itself apart from any other experience in Cordoba. From the food to your host Juan Jose Sala, everything is designed to make your stay most comfortable. From white glove service to the swimming pool, the lodge experience is tailored to suit.
